

ABSTRACT

A trocar assembly is provided which includes an obturator having a sharpened tip supported on one end thereof and a hand grip supported on an opposite end thereof. A cushioned grip member is supported on the hand grip. The cushioned grip member includes a slip resistant surface and is positioned on pressure contact regions of the hand grip.